INSTRUCTIONS

The commercial bids of the qualified tenderers based on the evaluation of technical bid will be opened on a suitable date which will be informed to the technically qualified tenderers after finalization of the technical bids.

The prices quoted shall be valid for a minimum period of SIX (6) months from the prescribed last date of submission of the tenders for acceptance and the accepted rates of the successful tenderer shall be valid for ONE YEAR from the date of acceptance. As LIC of India may order an additional quantity up to 50% of the overall quantity based on its requirement and the supplier shall supply the same at the accepted rates for the work orders placed within the validity period.

The Commercial Bid should contain the price schedule which should be filled by the tenderer both in words and figures for the cost of equipment.

The quoted price should be exclusive of GST price (i.e., any other applicable duties and taxes, Packing, Freight and Forwarding, Transit Insurance, Local transportation, Hamali Charges, completing the Road permit formalities, Octroi / Entry tax, unloading charges at site, charges for Installation, testing & commissioning and warranty period charges should be included in the basic rates). No additional charges / management fee of any kind will be reimbursed. The Supplier should be in a position to provide service after supply and installation including replacement during guarantee / warranty period of TWO YEARS in case of defects if any etc. at the places where supplied, without any extra charges.

Please note that the tender would be accepted at the Zonal Office – LIC, Chennai . However, individual work orders would be placed from our Divisional Offices. Accordingly, the UPS systems should be supplied and installed at various locations indicated in the orders placed by our Divisional Offices in Tamilnadu and Kerala

The Chief Engineer reserves the right to accept any tender not necessarily be the lowest or to reject all the tenders without assigning any reasons.
